Less than 3" long.

5 port regulator. These are an accessory clearance item for the A925 which is no longer in production. This regulator is for use on the air inlet of an air gun and only regulates the air going out the side elbow (also to the guage and safety valve). The air going straight through to the gun is not regulated. Simply hook your container pressure hose to the elbow to pressurize the container to your set adjustment. The safety valve is set for about 10 psi maximum.
