To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Steven Ritson, owner of Ritson Design, a Japanese-inspired furniture line, which includes custom tansus, tables, chairs, and bed frames. I've been a furniture designer and builder for over 30 years and am very particular with the equipment and products I use. I am writing in response to your Lemmer T-55Q HVLP Turpine Spray System, which in my opinion is one of the finest spraying systems on the market today.

When researching HVLP spraying systems, I read a review from Fine Woodworking magazine, which highly recommended your product. After purchasing it, I tested the sprayer on a 16-ft. Black French Walnut conference table. The result was absolutely remarkable. The lacquer laid so flat straight out of the gun, and the final finish was perfect. I recently snapped off one of the handles from your gun and had to rent HVLP spraying systems from other manufacturers. Despite boasting flashy brands and designs, the sprayers themselves did not deliver. Their finishes had significant orange peel; even after thinning over 50%, I still could not achieve a satisfactory finish.

I continually commend the Lemmer T-55Q HVLP Turpine Spray System to both industry professionals and the general public, who all inquire how I achieve such fine finishing with my furniture. I want to thank you for such a wonderful product and such professional service. Your company clearly has no competition.

Sincerely,

Steven Ritson
